

About the project

POP TiKR is an innovative application that seeks to close the distance between customers and small local businesses. It offers a new way to find entertainment, shops, restaurants, and more while saving money and contributing to the local community. I was working collaboratively with the marketing team creating graphics for use in the launching event that happened on October 2021.

I also was responsible in creating a magazine cover and a promotional video for the first POP TiKR campaign called #MyLocal.
